1.0 Introduction

Western's Work Study program offers an opportunity for students to work part-time on campus in jobs that accommodate their studies.

What are the objectives of the Work Study Program?

- To assist students in financial need with a regular source of income.
- To offer students training and experience that will assist them in further studies and their eventual entrance into the workforce.
- To provide assistance to faculty and staff.

How do students find out about the positions available?

Each term, students must apply for Work Study via the applicable financial assistance application. The application process is different for undergraduate and graduate students.

For more information on work study program for domestic undergraduate and graduate student, please visit: http://registrar.uwo.ca/student_finances/work_study.html.

For international undergraduate work study program, visit: https://iesc.uwo.ca/visas/working_and_volunteering/workstudy/

Students are notified through their Western email account of their work study decision. Once a student has been notified that they are approved for work study for the term, they will be able to access the job postings on the Work Study Center.

Which students are eligible for Work Study?

Students must be approved for work study for the current term prior to being hired. Only students who are eligible for current term work study will be able to view and apply to your job postings on the Work Study Center. If an ineligible student is allowed to work, the department will be responsible for payment to the student.

• Undergraduate students:

• Fall/Winter Work Study Program:

Undergraduate students who demonstrate financial need and are enrolled in a minimum 60% course load on main campus are eligible.

Student must be a Canadian citizen or permanent resident.

Please note: Affiliated College students are not eligible; each college has their own Work Study program during the Fall/Winter term. Please contact your Affiliated College's Financial Aid office for more information.

• Summer Work Study Program:

Undergraduate students who demonstrate financial need and are enrolled in a minimum of one half or equivalent summer course are eligible.

• Graduate Students:

• Graduate must submit financial assistance application each term by the published deadline. The eligibility criteria are available on the Office of the Registrar Website. Graduate students can access work study applications through Student center.

How many hours may a student work?

- Undergraduate students: the student and the supervisor must agree on a schedule of hours to work and must ensure that the hours worked do not interfere with the student's academic studies. As a guideline, we recommend no more than 18 hours per week. This is not mandatory as there are weeks in the year where students may have no classes (eg. Reading Week). Students are permitted to work a maximum of 40 hours per week. Please note: Supervisors should be careful in scheduling Work Study students so that the University does not owe the student overtime pay, or time and ½ when scheduled to work on a Public Holiday. The amount of funding per student, and the coinciding maximum hours per term has been set assuming that the minimum wage, vacation pay, required public holiday and benefit costs will be funded for the student.
- Graduate students: are limited to 10 hours per week based on full-time status requirements as stated in the Graduate and Postdoctoral Studies calendar. For more information please contact the School of Graduate & Postdoctoral Studies.
- Note to Work Study Supervisors: Students may not exceed their total number of approved hours for the academic term. Upon hiring a Work Study student, an email stating the approved number of hours for the term is sent to the student, the Supervisor and Work Study Administrator. It is the responsibility of the Work Study Supervisor to keep track of the hours worked throughout the term and to ensure that the student does not exceed the approved number of hours. If a student works more than their total number of hours approved, the University may seek reimbursement for those hours from the supervisor's departmental budget. Any remaining hours at the end of the term are forfeited and cannot be carried over to the next term.

How do students get paid?

- Students will report their hours worked each week to their supervisor through an agreed-upon system (e.g. email, paper timesheet, etc.), who will confirm the hours and then forward them to the Work Study Administrator in their area to be entered into the payroll system.
- Students will receive their weekly pay via direct deposit, always two weeks in arrears. Questions about setting up direct deposit should be directed to Human Resources.

- T4 slips will be issued to students from Human Resources.
- Students will be paid $16.55 per hour plus 4% vacation pay from a Financial Aid Work Study account.

What is the length of the program?

- Undergraduate students may work from September April for the Fall/Winter term and May August for the Summer term. Exact dates will be communicated via email.
- Graduate students may work from September December for the Fall term, January April for the Winter term, and May August for the Summer term.
- Exact start and End date* will be communicated via hiring email.
- *Graduate students hired for the Fall term must be terminated by Dec 31 each year.

Who should I contact if I have any questions or concerns about the program?

Contact wstudy@uwo.ca or Swapna Syamaladevi, Student Financial Services Officer at ssyamala@uwo.ca

Features at a Glance

• Welcome to the Work Study Center

Posting Work Study jobs and the hiring process will now occur using the Work Study Center. The Work Study Center is an online recruitment application specific to the Work Study Program and provided by the Office of the Registrar.

• More Interaction with Students

The Work Study Center offers more features to enable a closer interaction with students during the recruitment process. Students can upload their resumes into the Work Study Center providing easy and secure access to this information.

• Paper Work Study Student Appointment Notice no longer required

When the student is hired in the Work Study Center the job and payroll information is automatically setup in the Human Resources system.

In order to supervise work study students, an individual has to have an active employment contract with the University and be in a position to ensure proper supervision of the student. Please note: Excluded groups include Professor Emeritus/Emerita, Graduate Students, Postdoctoral Fellows/Associates, and Adjunct Faculty.

Responsibilities of the Work Study Supervisor:

- Manage and assign work to the work study student.
- Ensure that the hours worked by the work study student are reported accurately and in a timely manner to the department Work Study Administrator.
- Ensure that approved hours for the employment relationship are not exceeded.
- Ensure that information regarding departmental operations, including working hours, relevant policies and procedures and working relationships are reviewed with the work study student. Policies include Section 3 of the University Administrative Policy and Procedures.
- Ensure that all mandatory training is taken by the work study student to meet all Health and Safety regulations based on the work location, role and duties assigned https://workstudy.uwo.ca/signup/healthandsafety.cfm
- For in-person jobs, Work Study supervisors and administrators agree to accept the shared responsibility for keeping staff and students safe by following the Health & Safety information outlined in the Supervisor Health & Safety Awareness training https://www.ca/hr/learning/required/index.html, as well as, Western's health and safety protocols related to COVID-19 as found at https://www.uwo.ca/coronavirus/health-safety.html.
- Ensure work study student is aware of COVID 19 protocols and receive site-specific training as outlined at https://www.uwo.ca/coronavirus/health-safety.html.

Delegating:

Once the Supervisor's profile has been established, the duties of actually creating the job posting can be delegated, if desired, to another Western employee who meets the eligibility criteria outlined at the beginning of section 2.0. The delegate can post the position and organize the interview and selection processes on the Supervisor's behalf; however, the Supervisor must sign in to the Work Study Center and select the student to be hired to complete the recruitment transaction.

3.0 Responsibilities of the Work Study Administrator

Each faculty and business unit on campus has identified an individual(s) to act as the Work Study Administrator for their department. Administrators will receive notification of work study hires via email.

Responsibilities of the department Work Study Administrator:

- Support the Supervisor in ensuring that the student receives all the required Health and Safety training for their role and duties assigned.
- Adhere to Health & Safety information outlined in the Supervisor Health & Safety Awareness training https://uwo.ca/hr/learning/required/index.html, as well as, Western's health and safety protocols related to COVID-19 as found at https://www.uwo.ca/coronavirus/health-safety.html.
- Ensure work study students are aware of Western's COVID-19 protocol and are orientated with environment-specific guidelines. Also, please follow the additional guidelines provided by respective regulatory agencies.
- Manage the payroll aspects of the work study employment relationship. This includes entering the hours worked by the student into the Human Resources payroll system and submitting a Termination Notice if the employment relationship is ended before the end of the term.
- Ensure that all Reports are run in support of the employment relationship:

Pay Reconciliation Report

Work Study Pay Report

Work Study Hire Report

• Support the supervisor to ensure that approved hours for the employment relationship are not exceeded.

Please Note: The accounts used to pay "non-International" work study students have changed. The account for International students is FA14601300. The account for all "non-International" students is FA12601300.

First time Login:

Each Work Study Supervisor must establish a Work Study Profile the first time they login to the Work Study Center. Once their profile has been created, it will be available for reuse each time a job posting is required.

4.1 Creating a Profile in the Work Study Center

Go to https://workstudy.uwo.ca/signup/

The following page will appear. Click next to Western Work Study Supervisor and the page will change.

Enter your name and your Western provided email address and then read through the text until you get to the bottom of the page. Clicking the checkbox means you have read through the Terms of Service and the Work Study Supervisor Agreement and accept its conditions. Then click Create Account (until you accept the conditions this button will be inactive).

If your account was successfully created you will see a message indicating that you have added the Work Study Supervisor role. Click the Return to the login page to continue.

Once you are logged into your account using your Western username and password, the first thing you should do is to setup your Profile. Click on Profile on the left pannel.

7.0 Hiring a Work Study Student

An individual that has an employment relationship at the University can be delegated to create the job posting; however, the supervisor must sign into the Work Study Center and hire the student to complete the recruitment transaction. *This step cannot be delegated.

As soon as the hire is completed in the Work Study Center the following actions occur:

- 1. The student's personal, job and payroll information is automatically set up on the Human Resources system using the information gathered in the Work Study Center.
- 2. The student will receive an email that summarizes the job information and identifies the Supervisor and the department Work Study Administrator.
- 3. The Supervisor will receive an email identifying the Work Study Administrator(s) who will be the contact person(s) for submitting the student's hours worked.
- 4. The Work Study Administrator will receive an email summarizing the hire details, including both student and Supervisor information.

Procedure:

Click on the job into which you would like to hire the student. If the student's information is not listed in the Interested Students section you will need to add the student in the Add Applicant section. You can use either the student email address or the student ID to add the student.

| ····· |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| |
| Applicants added through this form must be approved for Work Study for the current term. |
| Please enter either the student ID or the applicant's @uwo.ca e-mail address. |

Important:

Students are required to update their SIN number on their records via Student center before they could hired via work study portal. Student financial services will reach out to students while notifying WS decision. However, while attempting to hire students who are yet to update SIN information, workstudy portal will restrict the supervisors from completing the hiring. Below message will be displayed while attempting to hire students with no SIN information on records:

The student you are trying to hire has missing SIN information. The student cannot be hired until they provide their SIN information. Please advise the student to update this information on their record so that hiring can be completed.

Students should update the SIN themselves through their secure Student Center profile by following these steps:

- Login to Student Center with the Western user ID and password.
- Click on Profile and then Personal Details and choose Add National ID.
- Add your SIN in the National ID field, and click Save.

Terminating a Work Study position is a two-step process:

- 1) The Supervisor must complete the termination through the Work Study Center instructions below.
- 2) The Work Study Administrator must send a paper Termination Notice to Human Resources to find this form please refer to Human Resources.

Step 1: To complete the termination in the Work Study Center go to Jobs on your left menu

Click on the job you would like to terminate the student from. You will find the student listed in the Interested Students section.

Click Terminate This Student under the name of the student that you wish to terminate.
